

MAIL

We encouraged our residents to write to family and friends as soon as possible after they arrive. We do not allow residents to receive newspapers or magazines while in the program. The residents will receive all mail addressed to them. A staff member will conduct the Mail Call during the evening shift. All mail will be opened by the resident in the presence of a staff member and inspected for contraband (inappropriate material) only. The staff member will not read the contents of the letter. SANCTUARY MODEL

Sanctuary is a trauma informed care method for creating or changing an organizational culture. The Sanctuary Model emphasizes the importance of “community” and mutual accountability through the S.E.L.F model and the Seven Commitments. Sanctuary has some similarities to BARJ which also focuses on accountability, community and competency development. One of Sanctuary’s three major components is the Seven Commitments. The Seven Commitments include a commitment to nonviolence, emotional intelligence, inquiry and social learning, shared governance, open communication, social responsibility, and growth and change. The Seven Commitments and the S.E.L.F model are based on community principles, focusing on restoring the connection with others.

Our residents and staff participate in a minimum of three community meetings daily. This is an opportunity to check-in to see how others are feeling, set goals and identify people you can go to if you are in need of help.

Sanctuary is a guide for creating a safe and non-violent environment for the residents and staff.

SEVEN COMMITMENTS OF SANCTUARY

Nonviolence: Development of safety skills

Emotional Intelligence: Development of emotional management skills

Social Learning: Development of cognitive skills

Democracy (shared governance): Development of social/political skills

Open Communication: Development of trust, of flexible but firm boundaries

Social Responsibility: Development of relationship skills

Growth and Change: Ability to cope positively with change
